CARING FOR BRITAIN

THE MANIFESTO OF THE NATIONAL FRONT

THE NATIONAL FRONT has launched its manifesto for a better, healthier and safer Britain. It is a manifesto full of policies that seek to preserve what is best in Britain while calling for radical changes in some areas where the policies of the old parties have failed so miserably.

While no single document can possibly cover every single aspect of life in Britain this manifesto is the most comprehensive policy document issued by the National Front for nearly ten years. It does not advocate a hotch potch of short term policies like those trotted out by the old parties - it is a blueprint for the future to provide a better life for our children, and their children.

In the last decade of the twentieth century it has been made very clear that Communism doesn't work and that Capitalism doesn't care. The time has never been riper for the emergence of racial nationalism in Britain.

Some points from the National Front manifesto are:

EDUCATION

■ Provide a British Education for our Children

No more multi-cultural experiments. More emphasis on Britain's heritage. Local control of education involving parents. Adequacy in the three R's to be regarded as essential. Further education grants to be available to all students; No parental contributions, no student loan schemes.

LAW & ORDER

■ Make our Streets Safe

Increase police foot patrols, particularly in the evening. Increase punishment for all violent crimes. Teach our children respect for other people and their property. Bring back capital punishment for murderers, terrorists, violent rapists and the large scale pushers of hard drugs.

ENVIRONMENT

■ A Cleaner and Safer Environment

No more Euro-juggernauts thundering along our roads. Incentives to switch to rail. Make companies pay heavy penalties for pollution they cause. A major campaign to clean up our rivers, beaches and countryside. A national pride campaign to stop litter and clean up our country. A halt to all raw sewage dumping.

HEALTH & WELFARE

■ Protect our Health Service

A completely free NHS - people shouldn't suffer financially when they are suffering from illness. No more privatisation. We will spend whatever is needed to cut waiting lists. We would encourage smaller local hospitals.

DEFENCE

■ Defend Our Nation

In an ever changing and unpredictable world, Britain must be ready to protect our people and interests. We do not want forces capable of annihilating the world - we simply seek an adequate and independent deterrent - with the recent cuts this is no longer provided. We would reverse the cuts.

RACE

■ Keep Britain British

The repatriation of all coloured immigrants phased over a ten to fifteen year period and accompanied by incentives. The repeal of all laws which seek to force integration on us. A complete ban on all building of Mosques, Hindu Temples, etc.

EUROPE

■ Preserve our Independence

We do not want Britain dragged into a European Super-State ruled by Brussels' bureaucrats, nor do we want our armed forces put under foreign control in a European Defence Force. Britain must preserve its independence so that we are not dragged into conflicts which do not concern us. No foreign ownership of British industry, land or homes.

THE ECONOMY

■ Re-Build Our Economy

The Tories have been wrecking our industry. We will maintain low and stable interest rates. We will penalise foreign imports, so that goods purchased in Britain are made in Britain by British workers. We will protect our home market just as the Japanese protect theirs. We will reduce the level of VAT. All firms in Britain will be British owned; foreign companies must not shut down British firms and throw thousands onto the dole. We will withdraw from Europe to stop the drift of industry away from Britain to the centre of Europe.

TAXATION

★ No Poll Tax - No Rates

The Front would introduce a local income tax. This is fair to everyone and can be very cheaply collected by the Inland Revenue saving millions of pounds. We would break up the large Councils to give you a truly local council - no more waste, no huge bureaucracies.

ULSTER

■ Smash The IRA

The Labour and Tory Parties keep trying to compromise with the IRA by agreeing to Dublin taking part in the government of Ulster. This only gives hope to the IRA and frustrates the majority in Ulster who are loyal to Britain. The National Front would smash the IRA in the North and we would seal the border with the South to prevent infiltration.

Recession Ends Business Hopes

AS NORMAN Lamont claims the end of the recession is in sight, figures published last month show that his prediction has come far too late for 5,615 firms who went bankrupt in England and Wales in the period March to June 1991.

It is a staggering 53 firms a day going out of business a rise of 65% on the same period last year. At the same time, the level of personal insolvencies rose even faster with Scotland being Britain's black spot.

There might be a light at the end of the tunnel for those firms who can hang on till the end of next year - but many more firms will have gone out of business before then.

Teachers Couldn't Read or Write

TEACHER TRAINING courses by London's South Bank Polytechnic and Manchester University have been producing trainee teachers who couldn't read or write.

The teachers from Bangladesh, India and Ghana had "qualified" from the courses and had taken up jobs in the London Borough of Tower Hamlets.

An Education Department report on them found that " . . . some had problems writing and spelling English and others making themselves understood. Others had no idea how to teach maths and some knew nothing about the National Curriculum".

● PICKLES: Too little, too late

Too Little Pickle, Too Late

"They came here for one reason only - they are paid many times more here, even without working, than they could earn in their own impoverished lands. "Does any other country lavish such social security benefits and housing on immigrants who have contributed nothing to the nation?".

So says Judge Pickles in his column in The Sun. It is the same sort of rhetoric we have been hearing from those unhappy with John Major who have left the Tory Party and have been writing to apply for membership of the National Front.

One wonders what they have been doing for the last twenty years?

Asians Move in on the Archers

NOTHING IN Britain is safe from Asianisation. Probably one of the least likely places that they would appear would be Borchester, the ficticious town which plays host to the long-running radio soap-opera The Archers, but now that too has fallen to Eastern influence.

Sudha Bhuchar became the first coloured immigrant to appear on the Radio 4 programme on Wednesday 25th September playing Usha Gupta a solicitor.

The Asian starlet who freely admitted that she had never heard of The Archers before going for the audition, also plays Kiran Bedi in Channel 4's Asian soap Family Pride.

One day the British people will call a halt to this alien intrusion into every aspect of their life. The only worry is that when that day comes the Asianisation of Britain will be too far advanced.

Asians Gun for the Kid

SWISS CHOCOLATE firm Nestle are under fire from the Race Relations Council over their auditions for a new 'Milky Bar Kid'.

The Milky Bar Kid has traditionally been played by a white, blonde-haired child and parents of the 300 children who took part in the recent audition in Newcastle received letters telling them that applicants had to be 'blonde or auburn'.

This outraged Mehdi Husani, Chairman of the Cleveland Council for Racial Justice. He demanded that children from the ethnic minorities be given the 30 year-old job of promoting the famous white chocolate bar. "We live in a multi-racial society", he told local reporters, "It's about time firms like Nestle recognised that fact".

Supermarkets Squeeze the Long-Suffering Shopper!

● ABROAD: Shoppers in Continental supermarkets get a better deal.

by Steve Brady

FEWER AND FEWER, bigger and bigger supermarket chains are squeezing more and more out of the British shopper. While the giant store combines are among the most profitable in the World, British shoppers pay up to twice as much for basic necessities as their counterparts in other Western countries.

A recent study found that the real prices of basic foodstuffs, allowing for differences in purchasing power between countries, were almost twice as high in leading British supermarket Tesco's as in equivalent stores in Germany and America. The cost of British food has risen by one third since 1985, compared with rises of 18% in France, 10% in Germany and 9% in Belgium, according to figures supplied by the Common Market Commission in Brussels.

These massively higher British food prices are the result of massively higher British supermarket profits. British supermarkets' profit margins are four times the European average and eight times that in the USA.

These profits are squeezed out of the housewife's purse by staggering mark-ups extorted on food by the supermarkets.

 On tomatoes, for example, British supermarkets charge an average of 66% more than they paid for them. American ones charge half that mark-up, 32% and Germans a twentieth, 3%.

 Bananas here are marked up 97% - you pay nearly twice what they cost the supermarket! - compared with 47% in the USA and 22% in Germany.*

* Rump steak is marked up 73% here, but 61% in Germany and 26% in the US.

 Frozen chips cost you 82% more than they cost the supermarket selling them, while a German pays 18% and an American just 9% more.

 Pork chops are marked up an incredible 156% by British supermarkets. German ones sell them at a 6% loss to attract custom.*

Over a basket of ten basic items, mainly fresh meat, fruit and vegetables, the average mark-up in British supermarkets was 61%, compared with 42% in America and 22% in Germany.

RIP-OFF

Under the Capitalist "free market" theory, now being foisted on the Russians, this sort of rip-off isn't supposed to happen, because "consumers" simply shop around for lower prices. But under Capitalist reality they can't. They have less and less choice to shop around between. The Big Five supermarkets - Sainsbury, Tesco, Safeway, Asda and Gateway - now control 60% of sales by value in the £40 billion a year grocery market. That enables them to spend £20 million just to open one new store, buying up all the best sites and selling at a loss until they have bankrupted surrounding competition.

Small family grocers are now closing at the rate of 30 a week! Leaving the housewife a "choice" of five huge conglomerates, all extorting huge profits. The old family grocers, giving good quality at value-for-money process, are being systematically exterminated commercially by the Big Five.

Then, as even Tory MP Ann Winterton admitted on August 17th, "My fear is they will get bigger and bigger, then amalgamate, and there will be less choice for the consumer". Consumers' Association policy director Stephen Locke, pointing out that "Food acounts for 20% of the average family budget", demanded Government action.

But Tories, Liberals and now even Labour are reluctant to "interfere with the market". Especially when some of its biggest profiteers, like Lord Sainsbury, bankroll their parties.

SQUEEZED

But "the market" means that British shoppers, including the unemployed and poor with children to feed, have extortionate profits squeezed out of them for the food they and their children need to live, whilst extortioners and legalised thieves wax fat on bread stolen from British babies' mouths.

The Sainsbury clan alone have squeezed the fourth biggest fortune in Britain out of their rip-off profits and supermarket monopoly. They are worth at least £1.8 billion. Some of which they have used to fund Liberal politicians. (No wonder the Liberal Democrats have just announced their conversion to the "free market"!)

Monopoly, the ruin of traditional family grocers and the extortion of vastly higher food prices from the many to make immense fortunes for the few may be the establishment parties' idea of a "free market". But they aren't ours. We would break up the big supermarket chains, encourage small British family grocers and give our housewives and shoppers real choices and real value at a decent price.

Hattersley Grovels Before Asian Tirade

HE COWERED in the corner of the temple, his knees folded in his arms and his stockinged feet increasing his vulnerability. He had to keep steadying the silly hat on his head for every time he urgently nodded his agreement to their demands the silly hat fell off.

Roy Hattersley, the Deputy Leader of the Labour Party was getting a roasting from Asian leaders in Bradford over Labour's lukewarm support for their campaign against Salman Rushdie. We can only assume his frenzied nodding was his assurances that should they win the next election Labour will produce the goods for the Asian community in Britain!

Magistrate lets off the Terrorists

THE TWO IRA supporters from the infamous "Guildford Four" whose arrest on drug charges we reported in our last issue were let off lightly by Clerkenwell Magistrates on September 5th.

Gerard Conlon, of Holloway, North London, admitted possessing 1.4 grammes of cocaine, worth £90 and one "Ecstasy" pill. Patrick Armstrong, of Largs, Stratchclyde, admitted possessing half a gramme of cocaine, street value £30.

Magistrate Mark Romer fawned on them: "Everyone has profound sympathy for what you have endured . . . I am going to take a lenient course by imposing a conditional discharge for two years". Implying that he would have sent someone who hadn't been convicted of terrorist murder to jail!

Well, Mr. Romer, we don't have any sympathy at all for what these subversives "endured". In fact, if we'd had our way they wouldn't be around to deal in drugs now. Once a British jury convicted them of murdering British people by planting a bomb in a British pub . . . we would have hanged them.

He Believes Blacks are British as well!

ELLIS Hillman is a London Councillor and former Vice-Chairman of the Labour-controlled Inner London Education Authority. Under his Vice-Chairmanship, ILEA was notorious for its multi-racialist brainwashing of the capital's pupils and persecution of any child who dared express patriotic views.

It now emerges that Hillman was, and still is, President of the International Flat Earth Society. In 1981, at an Oxford University debate, he proposed the motion "This House believes the Earth is flat".

But then, anyone who supported the loony policies of Labour's ILEA and believes that Blacks are "British" should have no trouble believing that the Earth is flat!

Campaign for Clean Water

NATIONAL FRONT members in the North-West are well represented in a vocal campaign lobbying to get Aluminum removed from drinking water in the North-West.

Added to supplies by North West Water to improve its clarity, Aluminum has recently been linked to Alzheimer's disease and has been removed from drinking water supplies in the South of England.

● COWLEY SOUTH: Making Morris Minors back in the late Fifties. Foreign imports have forced its closure.

DEATH KNELL FOR COWLEY

THE DEATH knell has been sounded for the historic Cowley South plant which since the late 1950's has housed the production line of the Morris Minor, the Mini, the Marina, SDI Rover and the Maestro. The Rover Group has not confirmed the closure date, but it is expected to follow the demise of the Maestro and Montego in about two years.

A Rover spokesman said: "The company sees its future as a specialist car manufacturer so we have excess production capacity. The rest of the Cowley complex will continue to produce the Rover 800 series."

Rover have been reduced to concentrating on specialist car manufacture because foreign car imports have flooded this country under-cutting their cars. A National Front Government would ban all foreign car imports, opening up the home market for vehicles made by British Car workers.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT

From Tina Wingfield NF Admin Officer

"Been away for a week?" asked the lady at the Post Office as she handed over a huge pile of NF mail on Monday 23rd September. In fact I hadn't. I had picked up the post the previous Friday and the forty plus letters was just the post for Saturday and Monday.

LOONEY TUNES

But of course a big post isn't necessarily a good post. Over the years the NF has become the mailing favourite of crank organisations throughout the world. Most days we get letters and papers from numerous Looney Tunes which are immediately dispatched to the dustbin. Many of the papers we receive from abroad are in breach of this country's Race Relations Act and have to be destroyed immediately.

CAMPAIGN

You can always tell the areas where NF branches are currently on a leafletting campaign. During the summer it was West London that was blazing a trail, now into September it is South London and Walsall. There are inquiries from Bournemouth! Now who can be putting out leaflets there?

September and October are traditionally good months for recuitment and this year is no exception. A good many members renew just prior to the Annual Conference and with collections from the Conference and Remembrance Day the Party can survive until January.

DISAPPOINTMENT

The big disappointment of the year has been the reaction to The Roots of the British. It is without a doubt the best publication that the NF has ever produced but our membership and branches have failed to make the most of it (As always the excellent Birmingham Branch is the exception to the rule).

PROMOTED

This book should have been promoted through every local paper by picking out the 'Column Writers' and sending them a review copy. The booklet provides much 'food for thought' and I'm certain those trendy liberals, which most column writers appear to be, would have tried to demolish Steve Brady's arguments giving the NF welcome publicity.

Come on branches let's have some action on this. Don't waste this valuable ammunition. Let's put the enemy under fire!

Front Monitors Sikh Building Plan

BIRMINGHAM NF have lent their support to the villagers of Snitterfield in calling for an inquiry into exactly what is going on at Redhill Farm just outside the village beside the A46 northern by-pass.

The Mayor of Stratford-upon-Avon attended a festival at the farm which drew 1,500 Sikhs from all over the country. But afterwards he was unable to tell villagers what was planned for the farm.

The Sant Baba Nand Sighn Ji Sikh Group who own the farm have applied for council permission to have a holy garden on the land with a toolshed, a greenhouse and a car park. But a local resident who took a look around the site one night told Birmingham National Front ''There are substantial foundations being dug and a large septic tank is already on site. There is no way that can be for a toolshed or a greenhouse. To me it's the foundations of a temple''.

When contacting Stratford District Council a representative of Birmingham National Front was told that the council was well aware of 'local talk' but that there had been no breach of planning laws by the Sikh Group so far.

The council spokesman claimed that if any illegal building was built it would be demolished by the council.

That is brave talk. If a Silk Temple is built and 1,500 sword carrying Sikhs are there to defend it who exactly is going to demolish it. No firm of contractors would take on the job.

To support the villagers of Snitterfield the National Front had an Evening of Action in the village on Friday 27th September.

● IN THE DARK: Stratford Mayor, Ken Kennett, had to listen to readings from the Holy Book but was told nothing.

● SELLING THE FLAG: National Front papersellers did a roaring trade in a Bermondsey high street prior to the Black Caucus March.

WHITE PRIDE IN SOUTH LONDON!

ON SATURDAY 24th August the 'National Black Caucus' held a march from London Bridge into the mainly white Bermondsey area of South London. As they were escorted by the police further and further into this area they encountered steadily growing opposition from the British residents of Bermondsey.

Shoppers out with their children shouted their opposition to the African and Asian marchers, two old-age pensioners brandished their walking sticks at the marchers and had to be restrained by the police.

As the marchers passed a block of flats one woman was playing 'Land of Hope and Glory' loudly through her open door while a large Union Jack was draped over the balcony. Large numbers of local people were wearing National Front stickers, holding up copies of The FLAG and reading our leaflets.

As the 200 strong immigrant march approached its end point it was met by a large demonstration of locals, National Front members and members of other organisations. The Police became very uneasy especially as some locals were becoming incensed by this 'invasion' of their part of London.

As it became clear that the Police had finally seen sense and diverted the marchers back from whence they came, there was a great feeling of celebration amongst the demonstrators which was only marred by one small group of individuals intent on self-publicity who started giving fascist salutes. These people were rapidly turned on by the locals.

UNDILUTED BIAS

Senior police officers, including the notorious Sir Peter Imbert, Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police, have shown their undiluted bias. No National Front march would ever be allowed through a mainly black area, and, in fact, the police are asking (again) for greater powers to halt any such march. However when it comes to a black march it is different, they are allowed wherever they want, no matter how sensitive the area.

The National Front salutes the white people of Bermondsey who told these black troublemakers that there is at least one area of London that is going to stand up to preserve its identity and heritage.

NEW RECRUITS

SOUTH LONDON is the fastest growing area for the National Front according to recruitment figures issued for the first three weeks in September.

Leafletting with the leaflet 'Did They Die in Vain' has had an excellent response with people joining up directly from the leaflet.

Police Withdraw Leaflet That Told The Truth

BRISTOL POLICE were recently forced to apologise to local Black "community leaders" for drawing attention to the fact that Blacks were suspected of committing a spate of burglaries in the city.

After the burglaries in the Redland and St. Andrews areas, master copies of leaflets were sent to 100 local Neighbourhood Watch organisers. They were intended to duplicate them and hand them to their local public. Because the Police suspected Blacks were responsible for burglaries in these mainly White areas, areas Blacks did not normally frequent, they warned householders "Afro-Caribbeans should be regarded with suspicion and should be watched".

Of course local Blacks and pro-Black politicians screamed blue murder. So Avon and Somerset Police had to crawl. A spokesman grovelled: "This is an unfortunate and isolated incident. We apologise for any offence to the Afro-Caribbean community and we very much regret this embarrassment."

Presumably the Police would find it less embarrassing to conceal important information from the public, making it harder for them to spot possible burglars. After all, what are a few more burglaries of White homes if it keeps the Blacks happy?

COURTS THE KEY TO CAR THEFT

by John McAuley

ROCKETING CRIME figures have consolidated Britain's position as the car theft capital of Europe. The latest statistics from the Home Office put car thefts for the year to September 1991 at 464,000, an all-time record and a staggering 23% increase over the previous year's 378,700, which was also a record. Other figures suggest theft risk for U.K. car owners is 50% greater than France, double that of Italy and Spain and six times that of Germany.

Overall recovery rates are depressingly low. Of 71,900 cars stolen over the last year in the Metropolitan Police area only 37,000 were recovered.

Last Year, London dealer The Autodrome set up a computerised register of stolen Classic Cars.

Managing director Richard Trebilcock said: "Crime is at an all-time high. It's hard to build a precise picture but unfortunately we know that there is a steady market world-wide for certain quality cars.

"A lot definitely go abroad and a lot are broken for spares. Some cars have fallen away in value, so there is less margin for doing work. That means there is a market for cheap spares and there are people prepared to supply them".

● CRIME CAPITAL: Britain tops the car theft league in Europe

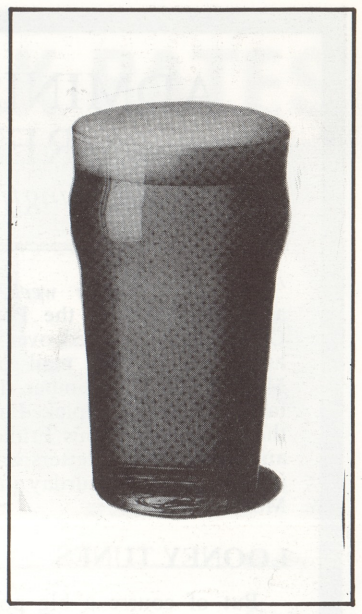
Norwich Union insures over a million private vehicles and is a leader in the classic field with 45,000 collector's car policies. The spokesman for Norwich Union James Duffell said: "The figures are disturbingly high. The anatomy of theft seems to be changing too. Our average payout has increased by 83% over the first six months of 1991, which suggests that crooks are singling out the more valuable classics".

In all cases, whether the stolen car is to be broken up, illegally exported or 'ringed' with a new identity, all the experts agree the critical time is in the days after the theft. The crooks move fast, with the car's fate decided before the theft and each day that passes the chances of recovery grow slimmer.

The National Front believes that the motor industry, the owners and the courts hold the key to reducing car crime. New models must have improved security; Classic Cars are the owners' responsibilty with care and vigilance the key words while the Courts can deter criminals by increasing the fines and prison sentences given to offenders.



BIG FOUR CONTROL BRITISH BEER!

THE TORY Government have rejected calls for a reduced rate of duty on beer from small breweries. Even though their own Monopolies Commission report recommended the move in 1989 as a way of encouraging the small brewers and reversing the growing takeover of British beer by the "Big Six" giant combines.

The Big Six are now the Big Four, and control even more of the beer trade. But still the Government refuses to act.

When the issue of preferential duty rates for small brewers was raised at a meeting of European Finance Ministers in Luxembourg British Minister Gillian Shephard said that her Government had no intention of doing any such thing.

The Germans on the other hand were in favour. They have always backed small brewers, with the result that their country boasts hundreds if not thousands of superb distinctive local beers, each brewed out of pure natural ingredients by small local firms.

So once again in Britian the quality of life of our people is sacrificed in the interests of the "free market". A "free market" controlled by fewer and fewer gigantic combines dishing up poor quality and even poorer value to more and more people.

Tories Dream Becomes a Nightmare

Home Owners Were Really Home Loaners!

HOME REPOSSESSIONS HAVE soared to record heights as slump, redundancy and extortionate interest rates combine to make a mockery of the Tory illusion of Britian becoming a "home-owning democracy".

Moneylenders - banks and building societies - repossessed a record 36,610 homes in the first half of this year, twice as many as last year, itself three times worse than 1989. 280 families are driven from their homes by repossession orders every working day. By the end of June, 53,000 repossessed homes were waiting to be sold.

There is worse to come, according to Mark Boleat, Director General of the Council of Mortgage Lenders. By the end of June, there were 162,210 mortgages behind in payments by between six months and a year, up 84% on last year. Despite the fact that many loans more than a year in arrears tend to be repossessed those that have not yet been were up 176% on June 1990. More and more "homeowners" are getting into trouble with their mortgages. Research commissioned by the Bank of England revealed that in March this year 269,780 loans were two months in arrears and 305,500 three months. A total of 784,000 families were behind with mortgage repayments - 8.3% of the total who have mortgages.

The debt disaster is hitting hardest at the part of Britain least equipped by experience to bear it - the traditionally prosperous South-East. Annual repossession court orders have more than doubled in the South-East during the last five years, while the national total has only gone up by a third. The South-East now accounts for 42% of court orders. This is not surprising. The region has suffered an 82% rise in unemployment since 1989. More than five times the rise in the North. While houses prices have fallen by 15% in the South-East, compared with a 19% increase in the North.

The fall in house prices means families who fall into mortgage arrears can't simply sell up to cover the arrears and move somewhere cheaper, as in the past. It take months to find a buyer, while they sink deeper into debt. By then they are so far down the gullet of the loan sharks the price they get can't cover the outstanding debt, so they get repossessed anyway. The more so as the bank and building society sharks, unlike their victims can recoup any losses due to depressed house prices because their loans are insured. That often leads to them not giving their victims a chance to sell. They just slam in a repossession order to get them out. Then they sell cheap and quick and put in a loan insurance claim. In the process driving house prices further down, making things worse.

No wonder Sheila McKechnie, director of the homeless charity Shelter warned recently "It is clear the worst is yet to come. The first half of this year sees more people in mortgage arrears than during the whole of last year. Unless action is taken now, 1991 looks set to be the year of unprecedented misery for home owners."

At the height of the Thatcherite Fools' Paradise we warned that it was all an illusion. The vast numbers of new "home owners" were actually "home loaners". They didn't own their own homes. The moneylenders - banks and building societies - did.

All they owned was a big debt. A debt, moreover, whose interest rate was not agreed at the time of borrowing but could be hiked by the loan shark institution whenever it felt like it. An arrangement which rightly has been illegal throughout most of our couuntry's history, and ought to be illegal now. An arrangement which meant that millions of families were hit when the Government deliberately raised interest rates through the roof.

They did it to curb imports when what they should have done was bring in import controls; and to lower inflation by raising unemployment, the rusty see-saw on which the British economy has been swinging from crisis to crisis for fifty years and more.

Economic nationalism would cure balance of payments and inflation problems without throwing thousands of British families onto the streets. Fixed rate, low interest loans, with interest accrual and repayments suspended while the breadwinner was unemployed or unfit for work, possibly provided by a State Bank, would give British families a secure roof over their heads.

● DESPAIR: Many people's mortgage is now more than their home is worth.

● LATE: Italian trams held up.

NIGHTMARE!

WHEN THE Greater Manchester Authority announced their plans for Metrolink, a tram network covering their area, they were supported by all North-West National Front members because the project was designed to relieve traffic congestion and limit pollution.

But the good idea has turned into a nightmare. Rather than have the trams made in Britain by British workers in British factories, the Authority decided to have them made in Italy. Now the trams are months late. The Italian firm are having difficulty in transporting the 70 tonne 63ft long trams to Britain, the first of which took two weeks to arrive and was involved in a number of accidents.

Greater Manchester Authority are now looking at the possibility of hiring a gigantic Soviet Antonov AN 225 to transport the other 25 trams by air.

Wouldn't it have been so much easier to make them in Britain?

DEPRAVED TERRORISTS LIVE OFF IRISH DEGRADATION

IRA TERRORISTS are smuggling drugs into the Irish Republic and pushing them to Dublin junkies, Ulster Police revealed last month.

The Irish People's Liberation Organisation, a Marxist splinter group of the Provos, are believed to have been burgling chemists' shops in Ulster to supply the estimated 4,000 junkies in Dublin.

Drugs are not a problem in Ulster, because Loyalist community policing groups - and, in fairness, their Republican counterparts - take the necessary firm and decisive action against pushers. In the Irish Republic drug abuse has reached epidemic proportions. Correspondingly, security at Southern chemists is tight, whereas in Ulster there has been little need to bother with precautions, as there is no market for stolen drugs there.

That is until the IRA discovered there was money to be made in stealing drugs in the North and selling them in the South.

So far this year the RUC have recorded 22 break-ins and drug-thefts at Ulster chemists, as against 9 in the whole of 1990. The Irish police, the Garda Siochana, confirmed that these drugs stolen in Ulster were being peddled by Republican activists in Dublin. The IPLO/IRA sect has also been implicated in a £1 million a year cannabis racket.

So much for the "Defenders of the Irish People". In between whining at Brit brutality and murdering British men, women and children, Irish Republicans are hooking Irish kids on hard drugs in order to exploit them. The IRA have long been murderers and cowards. Now they have sunk to depraved parasites, living on the desperation, degradation and death of their own people. They are a cancer eating at the heart of Ireland. It is time for the Irish, as much as ourselves, to cut them out ruthlessly once and for all.

The Forgotten Heyhead Men

TWENTY SIX men from the tiny hamlet of Heyhead in Lancashire gave their lives for Britain in the two world wars this century. Considering that just a dozen houses and a church make up the hamlet no one can doubt that Heyhead played its part in Britain's victories.

But some people don't seem to care about their noblest of sacrifices. A car park for Manchester Airport is to be built in the hamlet and the church and its memorial to those 26 brave men is to be knocked down to make way for it.

The people of Heyhead, whose houses will also be bulldozed, have requested that the memorial be left just to acknowledge the existence of Heyhead and its war dead.

But their request has fallen on deaf ears. Environment Secretary Michael Heseltine will sign the compulsory purchase order later this month.

FRIGHTENING FUTURE FOR THE WHITE RACE!

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO ENCOURAGE FAMILY LIFE!

By Steve Brady

ALL OVER EUROPE, the native White people are having fewer and fewer babies. The number of young people is going down. The number of elderly pensioners they must support is going up. The population is going down. Our nations, our race, is dying out. We Europeans are a dying breed.

A death speeded by those liberals and multi-racialists who use the falling native birth-rate to call for even more Coloured Immigration "to keep up the numbers of the work-force".

Let's look at the situation across our White European homeland. Remembering one vital statistic: each woman must, on average, have 2.1 children in her lifetime to keep the population constant. Any less, and numbers will fall. Until, if nothing is done, the nation dies and the race becomes extinct, like the dodo or the dinosaur.

BRITAIN:

Average birth rate: 1.8 children per woman. In 1960 it was 2.8. The number of third-born children has nearly halved, from 278,500 in 1960 to 140,400 in 1988. Meanwhile Bengali immigrants have an average of 8.0 children per couple. By the mid-2060's Britons will be outnumbered by Coloureds in their own country. On 30th July the London Independent called for more Immigrants to be "attracted" to Britain to make up the falling native numbers.

FRANCE:

Average birth rate: 1.81 children per woman. In 1980 it was 1.95. In 1970 2.48. Millions of North African Immigrants have a burgeoning birth rate. On July 29th, the French State statistics and economic office, INSEE, revealing the latest fall in native birth rate, recommended that the workforce be kept up by 142,000 Immigrants a year between 2000 and 2009, 148,000 a year in the following decade and 180,000 immigrants a year between 2020 and 2029. That was on current French birth rates. But INSEE went on to point out that on current trends the birth rate would fall to 1.5 children per Frenchwoman, so it called for 315,000 Immigrants a year if so.

GERMANY:

Average birth rate: 1.4 children per woman. "It is a daunting prospect" said Hans-Peter Bosse of the national statistics office in Wiesbaden, "as a nation we are simply failing to reproduce ourselves." According to Ulrich Mammey of the Federal Institute for Population Research, Coloured Immigrants in Germany, notably Turks, have bigger families. Currently 6.25% of the population, they will have almost doubled to 10% in the next nine years. "Obviously that is going to cause some concern" warned Herr Mammey. "But if Germans themselves are not reproducing in sufficient numbers we will have to get more people from somewhere. Perhaps we will even need an active Immigration policy".

ITALY:

Average birth rate: 1.29 children per woman. The lowest in Europe. Large numbers of North African Immigrants with a high birthrate in the Country.

SPAIN:

Average birth rate: 1.3 children per woman.

PORTUGAL:

Average birth rate: 1.5 children per woman.

GREECE:

Average birth rate: 1.5 children per woman.

IRISH REPUBLIC:

Average birth rate: 2.1 children per woman. Population therefore holding its own, but the birthrate is steadily falling. Coloured Immigrants beginning to move into Dublin and other large cities.

RUSSIA:

Birth rate of Whites falling. Birth rate of Muslims in Central Asian republics of the former Soviet Union is five times that of the Russians. If the Soviet Union had survived, Russians would have been an ethnic minority in it in nine years time.

WESTERN EUROPE :

Average birth rate in 12 Common Market member states: 1.6 children per woman. In 1960 it was 2.6. The number of babies born in these states has fallen from 5.2 million in 1960 to 3.8 million in 1989. The minimum estimate for the Coloured Immigrant population of these countries is 15 million. Put together, its Immigrants would outnumber seven of the twelve EEC nations.

MEANWHILE:

The number of non-Whites in the world grows by two million a week, the equivalent of the population of London in a month. Every six months, a horde of additional Coloureds outnumbering the entire British nation comes into existence.

HOW DID IT HAPPEN?

The root cause is the materialism, greed, social decadence and poverty brought about by Capitalism. Combined with the widespread availability of the technology to prevent babies happening. Couples put off having children because they are expensive and stop them "having fun". As German expert Herr Mammey put it, instead of being burdened with children, most Germans would rather pursue their careers and enjoy their free time.

● TOO FEW: Women against abortion. Their voice isn't heard

The same is true across Europe. Children aren't seen as a source of joy and purpose in life, a link to the only form of immortality we know of with certainty, that of the Race.

Across Europe, millions of babies that do get conceived are murdered by abortionists. Once that was a crime. No longer. The argument that banning abortion would drive women in desperation to illegal back-street abortionists itself reflects wicked social attitudes which see the creation of healthy White new life as in any circumstances a source of shame instead of pride.

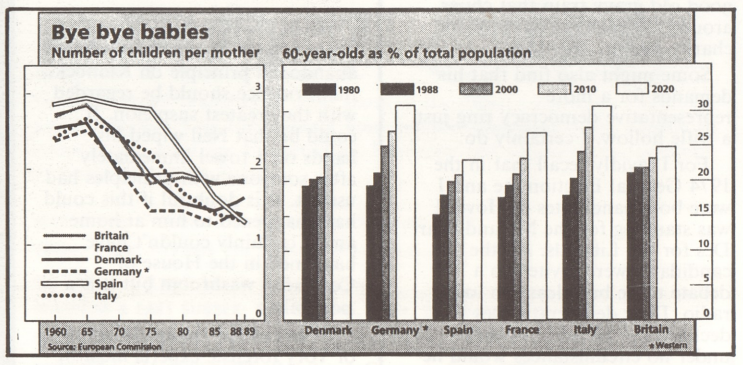
Inflation and high interest rates have made the "cornflake family" of breadwinner father, housewife mother, and at least two children, a thing of the past. Now it is necessary for the wife to work as well to help pay the bills.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

In the long run, the whole corrupt and decadent society rotting around us, whose falling birth rates and disintegrating families are but one stink of the pervading rot, must be torn down and built anew. But before that revolution the decline can be reversed. For one European nation, Sweden, has done it already. Fertility, which had dropped to 1.6 children per woman by 1983, is now back up to the magic replacement figure of 2.1, and rising.

It has done it by making it financially possible for for a mother to take two periods of equally well-paid leave if a second child is born within 30 months of the first, as well as improving financial allowances for child care facilities.

Such measures - not further Immigration as advocated by multi-racialists - are the immediate answer to the problem of Europe's falling birth-rate. We need more babies, for in their tiny hands they hold our future and that of our ancient nations and peoples.



Shamir Must Face Charges

● SHAMIR: Admits to murder

YITZHAK SHAMIR, Israel's Prime Minister honoured and paid tribute to the terrorism of the Stern Gang in Tel Aviv at the beginning of September.

The Stern Gang and Irgun were Jewish terrorists who butchered British soldiers and policemen serving in Palestine after the 1939-45 war.

Shamir, in a radio interview on the 51st anniversary of the founding of the Stern Gang, said he was very proud of the organisation's record of bombings and assassination.

While other British politicians befriend Shamir and forget the past, the National Front will not. Should Shamir still be alive when there is a National Front Government he will be brought to Britain to face charges arising from his terrorist activity.

The FLAG

COMPILED BY
Ian Anderson, Steve Brady,
& Martin Wingfield

Editorial No. 59. October 1991.

The Model Party

THERE IS VACUUM in British politics at the moment, and it is a rapidly growing vacuum. The likes of Major, Kinnock and Ashdown have caused it by their huddling together on that tiny island called the "Middle Ground" in the huge political sea. They tread on each other's toes as they scramble to secure their footing on this sacred plot. A plot which their image makers tell them must be theirs if they are to win the next election.

At the present there is a massive opportunity for a new force in British politics. A patriotic force with a set of clear principles to which it adheres through hell and high water. A political party that totally rejects the old order that has held the whip hand behind the scenes at Westminster throughout the last half century.

The National Front is of course the Party that one day will fill this political vacuum. It is not able to fill it at present because it is still too weak recovering from the internal turmoil that has beset it through the last ten years.

If there hadn't been that turmoil would the old-style NF be in the thick of things today fielding 600 plus candidates in the election whenever it comes?.

The internal turmoil in 1980 concerned the question of democracy within the Party. Some members of the National Front wanted democracy others didn't. The democratic wing of the Party won and the others left to form their own party.

The British electorate will never support totalitarianism. If the NF hadn't kept the principle of democracy within the Party it would be as politically dead as those groups that just about exist today living on memories of the distant and foreign past.

In 1985 it was a question of realism. Some members wanted to pursue a new line, taking the National Front away from its traditional political functions as a political party. Revolution was the watch word of these strange angry young men who tried to lead the NF off on the road to oblivion. Thankfully realism and common sense won the day and the NF stayed faithful to its role as a political party.

The British public runs a mile at anything 'Revolutionary'. The Left with all their friends in high places couldn't win them over to a 'Red Revolution' so how on earth could a bunch of schoolboys, the majority of whom had never done a day's work in their lives, hope to win?. The NF would today be dead and buried if it had followed that road.

So, despite the efforts of many to change it, the National Front today is a patriotic and democratic political party. It maybe be very small compared to the other parties, it may lack resources, and it may have a long hard road ahead of it. But it is the model party that the British people want. Its principles are the principles of the vast majority of British men and women.

The National Front will be the new force in British politics. With the loyalty of its old members and the enthusiasm of its new, the National Front will be able to take up the mantle on behalf of the British people and, in time, lead the way to winning back our country for its people.

The Roots of the British

Who are we as a people? Where did the British come from? Are we a nation of immigrants as some multi-culturalists would argue?

All this and more is answered in STEVE BRADY'S brilliant book.

● NEWCASTLE: White Riot - the media gleefully reported every detail.

● TELFORD: Black Riot - no news for 24 hours and then no details.

The Riot The Media Could Report

THE RACE RIOT in Chapeltown, Leeds just recently, that was so ably chronicled in last month's issue of 'THE FLAG', followed the pattern of past race riots; i.e. the media almost forgot to report it. Indeed, as a south coast provincial, the first I heard about it was on the Tuesday morning when the BBC coyly menioned that the riots had started three days earlier. Such are the wonders of modern communications.

Similarly, the riots at Telford and Cardiff were reported somewhat belatedly with no reference whatever to the racial element, whereas ethnic troubles in far off USSR or South Africa are conveyed to us with the speed of light; sometimes before they've actually happened.

by TED BUDDEN

So it was too with the outbreak of malicious yobbism in Oxford and Newcastle. We were all treated to a blow by blow description from the word go. The difference between these riots and the others is, of course, that in the latter cases the miscreants were White, or mainly so.

COPY CAT

The reasons usually given for the suppression or dilution of news of race riots is that they might lead to copy-cat riots elsewhere. The Oxford and Newcastle affairs could not really be described as copy-cat - copy-some - other - kind - of - animal perhaps; the Race Relations Act forbids me from saying which.

In the case of the immigrant rioters; they are aliens in an alien land. Fish out of water. They have a sense of inferiority and of being unwanted. They know too that they can literally get away with murder; the Police being either too cowardly or too conscious of their promotion prospects to intervene.

The yobboes of Oxford and Newcastle have been alienated too but in a different way. They are idle and dissolute but, despite the old saying that the Devil finds work for idle hands, the bleating of leftist clerics about unemployment and deprivation is as bogus as their protestations of faith. The grandparents of the yobboes were unemployed too and infinitely more deprived but they did not engage in mindless destruction - they had too much pride.

But therein, perhaps, lies the key; the yobboes have no genuine pride or self-respect. They are drifting and rudderless having been deprived of the sense of belonging; of their allegiance to their community. They have been force-fed on internationalist pap. They have been stripped of their racial identity by the aforementioned bleating clerics; by the sick multi-racialists; and by the freakish social engineers. They too have become aliens in an alien land, a land that is their birthright but which has been stolen from them.

None of which excuses their brainless depredations. Those convicted will, I suppose, be sentenced to a couple of hours "community service". As a founder member of the hang 'em and flog 'em brigade, I believe that the only kind of community service that will have any effect is if some strong-armed member of the community gives them a good stroking with the birch - plus a couple of extra strokes for dishonouring their race and nation and acting like the inhabitants of Brixton.

A Load of Dutch Cheese

WHATEVER BECAME of the Dutch? Why, once they bred hard men of impeccable virtue with faces hewn from granite. They were among the world's most feared soldiers and sailors. They were intrepid explorers and ruthless imperialists. Just look at them now!

For Holland has embraced "liberalism" in its most freakish form. Holland is now the land of easy drugs, easy porn, and easy virtue. It is the international meeting place for sexual perverts and grimy hippies - indeed many of Holland's soldiers look more like hippies than the hippies.

Holland it was that surrendered to the German invaders without a fight during the last war. Holland it was that only recently undermined the fight against international terrorism by freeing IRA murderers - presumably for fear of retaliation.

Holland it is that is a byword for decadence. It is therefore proper that it should be Holland that supplies the present President of the European Community - the EC, as you know, having a rotating President; a sort of White whirling dervish.

So it was the Dutch who were the hosts for the latest European summit, held in The Hague. As the flabby gentry, who are the European Heads of State, filed into the Presidential Palace, they were saluted by the Guard of Honour - a pair of Dutch dolly-birds attired in the uniforms of Ruritanian Hussars and clutching sabres. This was, presumably, intended as a symbolic demonstration of the Dutch commitment to "liberalism" in the field of sexual equality. Symbolic it was!

For it was at this "summit" that the Dutch proposed the sending of armed forces to Yugoslavia to restore order. Yes, the Dutch!!! One must assume that they intended someone else to do the fighting. Needless to say, the reception for this proposal was somewhat cool.

For what this "summit", with its Dutch dolly-birds, emphasised more than anything was the sheer frivolity, hollow pretensions and empty posturings of the present EC set-up.

It aspires to be a new centre of world power. What it increasingly appears to be is a bloated version of the ghastly Weimar Republic of the twenties and thirties; feeble, decadent and corrupt; infested with aliens and accepting every kind of depravity as the norm.

It looks less and less like a soaring young eagle and more and more like a foolish fat goose, ripe for the plucking.

This being so, it would be fitting if the Dutch held the Presidency permanently.

Strange Priorities

TWO ITEMS from the same edition of the 'Brighton Evening Argus':

The sudden arrival of dozens of Sudanese refugee children Brighton and Hove is putting a strain on schools.

About 100 families came to Sussex two months ago after escaping from the war-torn country. They were given United Nations passports and refugee status by the British Government.

East Sussex County Council is finding schools for their children to start the new term. Places have been found in six primary and secondary schools. The youngsters speak little or no English and staff have to devote a lot of time to them. Teachers specialising in English as a second language are touring the six schools but are under pressure.

Council spokesman Martin Fitzgerald said:| "The new arrivals have obviously put a strain on the system".

Some families have been housed by Brighton letting agents, Leaders, who said: "Landlords seem to understand the situation and have been helpful in providing accomodation".

From the Family Finance page:
Q. I am a widow of 74 and my retirement pension is £54.50 a week. This is my only income, but I am told it is too high for income support. Will I receive a retirement pension increase at 75?

A. Unfortunately not, but at 75, the level of "needs" used when income support is assessed will increase. At present your retirement pension is in excess of your £53.40 "needs" allowance but this will increase to £55.20 when you are 75.

Motes and Beams

I SUPPOSE, like me, you become a trifle angry when you hear of French farmers burning lorryloads of English lamb. We've always known, of course, that half the population of France work on small farms and are subsidised up to the hilt by our taxes.

I was surprised to learn, therefore, that French farming has been so drastically restructured that only 6% of the population now work on the land and that many of those that remain are being driven into bankruptcy by meat imports from Poland and Hungary. It is imports as such that they are protesting against, not just those from Britain and in that context I suppose we might recall the outcry from our farmers when the French were sending us cheap milk and eggs - the milk, it was said, being of poor quality and the eggs probably contaminated. Ah yes, just so.

So too with fish. We all know that the fish we buy in the shops is high in price and low in quality. It's all down to those rotten foreigners stealing our quota, like those Spanish boats being registered in Britain and landing their catches in Spain.

Just so. I've always believed that too. Which is why I was so surprised to discover that a great deal of the fish that is caught in the Eastern Channel and the Southern North Sea is landed directly in Belgian ports - by British boats. I learn too that of the fish caught by Welsh fishermen in the Irish Sea, almost none goes to British markets but is loaded on to refrigerated lorries and sent straight off to Spain and Portugal.

I believe we should always fight for Britain's corner. I have, however, come to the conclusion that we should always be wary of allowing ourselves to be conned by the specious protests of self-serving farmers and fishermen.

It would be nice to think that they are as patriotic as we are. It just ain't so!

Hair of the Dog

THE SEASIDE freak show held in Bournemouth recently - the so-called Liberal Democrat Conference - was reckoned by most people to be the best comedy show on television. I didn't find it so, however. I believe it's wrong to laugh at the afflicted.

Nevertheless, I did find it interesting in a bizarre sort of way, especially the contribution from Des Wilson, the party's present election strategist.

Dear Des was forthright in his condemnation of "the corruption in politics" with special reference to the former Government ministers and former civil servants who find themselves plush jobs with the very industries they were responsible for "privatising".

Just so. However, some might find it just a little rich that he should be condemning that kind of privilege when he himself has always had a reserved seat on the good old gravy train that chugs around the plushest parts of the charity circuit.

Some might also find that his demands for a more representative democracy ring just a trifle hollow. I certainly do.

For I vividly recall that in the 1974 General Election, he and I were both candidates at Hove. I was standing for the NF and dear Des for the Liberals. All the candidates were invited to a debate to be broadcast on local radio. Dear democratic Des declined on the grounds that under no circumstances would he permit me to have my say. The broadcast was cancelled.

I remember how bitter I felt at the time that an Englishman should be denied a voice by a fat New Zealand fruit that had deteriorated on the voyage.

So it may surprise you to know that, in the absence of a NF candidate, if dear Des was standing in my constituency I would vote for him.

For if voting Liberal is the only way of breaking the political mould I will grit my teeth and do it. Paradoxically, the Liberals could be the cure for our political ills and dear Des the hair of the dog that bit me. It's your guess which part of the dog's anatomy the hair comes from.

Kinnock is Innocent

I KNOW that politics is a dirty business but when a politician bears false witness against another politician I really do believe that it has descended into the gutter.

Just the other day, Norman Lamont, Tory Chancellor of the Exchequer and notorious numbers racketeer, accused Labour leader, Neil "Poison Peanut" Kinnock, of abandoning his principles".

This is a truly scandalous allegation. It is totally unjust that Neil should be convicted of abandoning his principles when there is not a shred of evidence that he has ever had any principles or, indeed, that he has ever had the slightest contact with them.

When Tory forensic experts claim to have detected traces of abandoned principle on Kinnock, that evidence should be regarded with the greatest suspicion. It could be that Neil wiped his hands on a towel immediately after someone with principles had used it. It is doubtful if this could have happened to him at home and it certainly couldn't have happened in the House of Commons washroom but it is a possibility.

In any event, the qualifications of Tory forensic experts must be called into question when it can be proved that they have for years wrongly identified the ingredients of "The Recipe for Our National Ills". Have they simply compared the substance found on Kinnock with Tory principle? This is itself virtually undetectable and is almost identical with several other political substances - Essense of Cant; Tincture of Humbug; Oil of Evasion; Sulphate of Mendacity; to name but a few.

Furthermore; I have uncovered a surprise witness who shared a room with Neil Kinnock fifteen years ago and is prepared to swear on oath that Neil wouldn't know a principle if it hit him in the eye.

Clearly Neil's conviction must be set aside as "unsafe"

To this end I have formed the Westminster One Committee to secure justice for our Neil.

Just send me your donations, large or small, and I promise you that the money will be used to clear the name of our Neil from the taint of principle and ensure that our beloved Welsh Windbag gets his just deserts.

The Changing Face of West London

● 1991: 3rd Greenford Scouts.

● 1991: Harvington School.

THESE TWO photographs show the changing face of West London. The first one is of Cubs and Scouts from the 3rd Greenford Group and the second is of the Harvington School in Ealing.

If they had been taken twenty years ago these photographs would have showed just British children. What they will show when taken in twenty years time does not require much imagination.

It is a very sad state of affairs.

Timely Report on Defence Disaster

THE FRONT page report on the disastrous state of Britain's defence forces in the September issue of The FLAG was a timely reminder as to the depths our armed forces have sunk to.

It's not just NF propaganda to say that Britain is finished as a military force - now a Parliamentary Defence Committee has come to the same conclusion.

Their report found was that the Gulf War showed that the United Kingdom would never again be able to undertake a major out-of-area military campaign without assistance from abroad. But the real revelation was that the rundown of Britain's Merchant Navy meant that Britain was completely unable to organise movement of her own supplies at a time of crisis.

Rebuilding Britain's defence forces and in particular Britian's Merchant Navy must be one of the main planks in the NF's election platform.

THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH

2 Chronicles 7, Verse 14.

Priceless Waffle over Handsworth Riot

MANY OF your readers must have watched with mounting anger the antics of Dick Knowles, Leader of Birmingham City Council, on TV recently. He was being interviewed about the violent disturbances in Handsworth.

He treated the event with no more seriousness than if it had been a couple of schoolboys caught scrumping apples. His remarks included such gems as the following . . "Well of course it was stealing, but the opportunity was there . . ."

The Chief Constable wasn't much better ending his say on the matter with the priceless waffle . . . "I'm very sorry it was Handsworth, I really am." Taking into account the anti-social nature of those inflicted on that area in recent years it surely is the most likely place for a riot!

This and other recent disturbances highlight the contention of the National Front that a multi-racial society does not work.

Doctors Comes Clean over AIDS scare

THE ESTABLISHMENT'S claim that AIDS is a disease that effects all people has been exposed as a 'big lie' after a survey conducted by doctors at hospitals in London.

According to the results of the survey AIDS is a homosexual disease and the spread of the AIDS virus among heterosexuals in Britain is almost entirely limited to people who inject drugs and to people of African origin or people who have had sexual partners of African origin.

The results of the survey only came to light when the Government decided to switch the emphasis of AIDS publicity to concentrate on the ethnic minorities already here and immigrants arriving in Britain from abroad.

It is a disgrace that John Major should be courting homosexuals at Downing Street when they are jointly responsible for the AIDS disease in Britain. But then again it is not surprising. It was the Tories who brought coloured immigrants into this country in the first place.

Not a Good Example

I AM writing to express my surprise at an article that appeared in The FLAG entitled "YORKSHIRE: The Last Bastion of English Cricket Falls".

In this article you stated that the Sussex CCC team was "full of Pakistanis, Indians, Australians, West Indians and South Africans". In using Sussex as an example you have probably selected the most inappropriate county.

True, Sussex have had such players in the past as Imran Khan, Gehan Mendis, Garth Le Roux, Kelper Wessels and Jarved Miandad but their contracts with the club have always been in accordance with the restrictions on overseas players laid down by the TCCB.

Sussex currently have an informal policy of recruiting, as far as possible, young players from the county; a county moreover, not renowned for having a sizeable ethnic minority population.

I understand fully the point that you were making in the article but the example you used was a poor one

Race Traitor Gets His Reward

LABOUR COUNCILLOR Bill Gray has received his reward for all the campaigning and lobbying he has done on behalf of the Pakistanis living in Nechells Ward, Birmingham.

He has been awarded Pakistan's highest civil award, the Star of Pakistan, which he will receive from Pakistan's President Ghulam Ishaq Khan at a ceremony in Karachi next month.

The authorities tell us that Pakistanis living in Britain are British. If that is the case, why is Pakistan giving an award to a British councillor for looking after British citizens? Isn't that rather strange?.

In reality Councillor Gray is a traitor. Looking after the interests of an alien population in Britain at the expense of the British population, and then being rewarded by an alien Government.

ANGLO SAXON ENGLAND

by Sir Frank Stenton

This fascinating book covers the period 550-1087 a.d. and traces the development of Anglo-Saxon England. This is the period of the unification of England begun by the Kings of Mercia and completed by the Kings of Wessex, the Scandinavian settlements of the ninth century, the annexation of England to Denmark by Cnut, and the overthrow of the Old English State by William of Normandy.

THE FIRST DAY ON THE SOMME

By Martin Middlebrook

At 7.30am on 1st July 1916, a continuous line of British soldiers climbed out of their trenches and began to walk slowly towards the German lines. Many of them believed that the enemy positions had already been destroyed. By the end of the day they had suffered 60,000 casualties - one for every 18 inches of the Front. This is a vivid and moving account, including the recollections of hundreds of survivors , and gives a brilliant, horrifying and intensely moving portrait of war on the front line.

A HISTORY OF THE GREAT WAR

by C.R.M.F. Crutwell

This is an accurate, intelligent and graphically readable account of the campaigns and battles enlivened by portraits of the leaders and generals of all the countries involved. Scrupulously fair, praising and blaming friend and enemy as the circumstances demand, it has become established as the classic account of the Great War.

FLAG SPORT

● PURE CRICKET: England v. Australia, Old Trafford 1956. Mackay is caught by Oakman bowled Laker, during Laker's 19-wicket rout of the Australians.

When Money Comes in the Door - Sport goes out of the Window!

WHOEVER WOULD HAVE thought that we would see the day when the professional foul became a regular feature of the cricketing scene.

The fact that we undoubtedly have is merely more proof of the fact that when money comes in the door, sport goes out the window. The balance sheet has today become more important than the score card.

The twin villains are, of course, television and commercial sponsorship. The outfield that was once an unsullied green carpet is now more than likely to be disfigured by the sponsor's company logo being painted on the grass. Cricket is now played under floodlights for the benefit of television with the players dressed in multi-coloured pyjama suits. The standard white cricketing gear is now likely to be dotted with discreet advertising symbols and it can only be a matter of time before the players become animated advertising hoardings - though in the case of England players, perhaps not all that animated.

The county appellations have, with Yorkshire's abandonment of their birth qualification, now become not only totally meaningless but a positive offence under the Trades Descriptions Act. Players now transfer their allegiance from county to county with the same abandon as footballers and with the same motives.

Drearily repetitive short-pitched bowling has now become the norm, especially in Test matches. This could and should be outlawed. The bowler's objective must be to strike the stumps or have the batsman caught out defending his stumps, not to fracture his skull or to have him caught out defending his skull.

The simply solution to this cynical breach of the spirit of the game is to paint a line two thirds of the distance between the creases with any delivery pitching short of that line being declared a no-ball. This would not prevent bowling of genuine bounce and lift but would demand a level of accuracy that many fast bowlers totally lack.

But surely the most depressing and disgraceful breach of the spirit of the game lies in the naked gamesmanship that now characterises the one-day game, particularly the lucrative knock-out cup matches.

In a semi-final of this year's Nat-West Trophy, Surrey were playing Northants. Northants were poised for victory but the overs were running out and the evening light was failing.

SPORTS SPECIAL

TED BUDDEN bemoans the rotten ethics that taint CRICKET today!

INTERSPERSED

The Surrey pace bowlers were on and every ball was interspersed with a lengthy tactical discussion between the bowler and the captain; the clear objective being to prolong the match so that the Northants batsmen would be unable to pick up the flight of the ball in the gathering gloom. In the end, play was abandoned for the day and Surrey, alas, scraped home the following morning when the Northants batsmen were cold. Happily, Surrey lost in the final.

Whatever that is, it just ain't cricket. Alas, the game has become so tainted with rotten ethics that I don't think it ever will be again.
